

Glaucoma Awareness Week 2021

The Glaucoma Awareness Week which was conducted from 7th march to 13th March 2021, various awareness activities were conducted by the department of Ophthalmology. Notifications on digital boards and Awareness posters were put up at various sites in the campus throughout the week. Posters urging susceptible patients to get themselves checked for free were put up outside the OPD of Narayana hospital OP and IP blocks.

Undergraduate and Postgraduate students were enlightened about glaucoma. Patients and their relatives who visited the Ophthalmology OPD were educated about glaucoma. Glaucoma awareness ribbons, Booklets and QR codes containing video links for awareness of glaucoma in more than 10 different languages were distributed.

An Awareness programme was held in Narayana College of Pharmacy and a guest lecture on glaucoma was given by chief guest, Dr.R.Sudha, Prof. and HOD, Department of Ophthalmology, Narayana Medical College, Nellore

An awareness programme was conducted on 13th of March at 8 AM involving all departments which included an awareness talk by our glaucoma specialist Dr.Kumar Amruth, Associate professor, Department of Ophthalmology, Narayana Medical College and Hospital and an online guest lecture by Dr.Malleshwari, a glaucoma specialist from Sankara eye hospital.
