

World Population Day- Report 11th July 2023

On the occasion of World Population Day, Department of Community Medicine organised a rally from Children park, Balaji nagar till Narayana Engineering College, Nellore. The rally started at 11:10 AM and reached Narayana Engineering College at 11:25 AM. Rally was organized with the help of Dr. Raja Sekhar (Assistant Professor), Dr. Shruthi (Senior Resident) and Dr. Karthik DM (Medical officer, UHTC) and was participated by 2nd year and 3rd year undergraduate students posted in the Department of Community Medicine, interns posted in UHTC & RHTC and staff of UHTC and staff of Department of Community Medicine. This was followed by an educational session conducted by the Department of Community Medicine with in close co-ordination with Narayana Engineering College management.

Educational session included speeches from Dr. Murali (HOD, ECE department, Narayana Engineering college) Dr. A V S Sreedhar (Vice principal, Narayana Engineering college) and a Lecture by Dr. Sai Sravan (Associate Professor, Department of Community Medicine) on the history, importance and way forward regarding world population data, population explosion, its effects and its way forward. Session was moderated and organized by Dr. Karthik (UHTC Medical Officer). Around 400 engineering students and medical students (UGs), interns, staff of UHTC, staff of Department of Community Medicine participated in the health education program in the auditorium of Narayana Engineering College, Nellore. Session concluded with vote of thanks by Dr. Karthik DM Medical Officer , Urban Health & Training Centre, Narayana Medical College, Nellore.

NARAYANA
MEDICAL COLLEGE

DEPARATMENT OF COMMUNITY MEDICINE

WORLD

Population Day

11th July 2023

Unleashing the power of gender equality

