

ANTI RAGGING

National Medical Council has proposed to observe anti ragging day on 12 August 2023 and Anti ragging week on from 12th to 18th Aug 2023.

Adhering to guidelines of UGC our institute has observed Anti ragging day, and Anti ragging week by organizing the following activities.

1.Orientation programs is conducted on 12th Aug 2023, addressing the students sensitizing them about the gravity of ragging and explained legal implications of the acts defined as ragging and even briefed on activities that would amount to ragging.

Anti ragging committee is already constituted which is vigilant on activities of the students for keeping a check.

Activities like essay writing slogan writing, poster making were conducted and best of the participants were rewarded with letter of appreciation and prizes.

In this event Dr.P.Sreenivasulu Reddy, Principal, Narayana Medical College.

Dr.R.Viswa Kumar, Vice Principal, Narayana Medical College.

Dr.K.Asha Latha, Professor & HOD , Department of Anatomy, Narayana Medical College.

Dr.P.Sasikala, Professor & HOD , Department of Physiology, Narayana Medical College.

Dr.M.Prasad, NSS program officer, Narayana Medical College, along with other administrators and faculty members have joined the events collectively to motivate the active participation of the students for the week long activities.

